

Dr. Khadijah Nevorn Askari

Dr. Khadijah Nevorn Askari, a loving and dedicated pediatrician, who has taken care of the young and old, was born in Philadelphia, PA, to freedom fighters and civil rights activists Marie and Fred Hall Sr.. She is the ninth of ten children. Her loving parents and extended family instilled in her the love of servicing humankind. At a young age, Dr. Askari dedicated her life's work to the freedom and upliftment of African people wherever we may be.

Dr. Askari's name is synonymous with integrated healthcare and although her medical diploma reads, Emory School of Medicine, she was nurtured, fed and cradled in the bosom of Morehouse School of Medicine. She helped to set the standard of excellence as one of their original pioneer students. She took her years of extensive studying holistic medicine and natural therapies, and applied them in her office, Shifa Al-Asqam. From homeopathic remedies to yoga classes, she reflected an understanding that healing of the body is directly connected to healing the mind and spirit.

Dr. Askari was instrumental in opening a twenty-two bed medical clinic in Senegal, West Africa and the training of their healthcare workers. They are now fully functioning and are part of the World Health Organization. She embodies the concept of Kujichagulia.

Dr. Askari says, "Healing and achieving wellness is an on-going journey; we never stop healing but merely reach different levels. In my practice, I have been honored to take the journey with each and every one of our patients to achieve healing at a higher level."

Dr. Askari is presently being held hostage by the Federal Government's Prison System, forced to serve 66 months. She can no longer support her grandchildren whose father, her son, passed away in her arms at the tender age of 29. She can no longer give to progressive causes that are dear to her heart. She can no longer sustain the things that she took a lifetime to build.

She requests you join her in her struggle for freedom and pray Allah will release her from the clutches of her enemy. She leaves you with one of her favorite quotes: "The revolutionary awareness of any society can be measured by the political maturity of its women." Once we internalize this we will indeed.... Free The Land!

She needs your continuous support! Let her know you have not forgotten her by writing:

Dr. Nevorn Askari
64321-019
Federal Bureau of Corrections
Marianna Prison Camp
Cherokee Unit A
P.O. Box 7006
Marianna, Florida 32447

You can make also donate at: khadijahnaskari@gmail.com

Please join us to view a film made in her honor:

'Reclaiming the Spirit, Ask Dr. Askari'

on Saturday, March 24, 2018 at 7 pm; Cafe ULU, 2036 Sylvan Road, Atlanta, GA 30310
For tickets and information email Friends of Dr. Askari at: khadijahnaskari@gmail.com

