Flurries from Chris

This past Sunday (July 26th) we installed our new officers officially to their new positions and in doing so we recognized the commitments that each individual has made to serving in their various roles. But we also, recognized our own responsibilities to uplifting the whole body of Christ manifest in our congregation. While some are called to serve in specific roles we are all called into ministry together. Some serve in very public roles, while others serve in the background, still serving in important capacities that continue to support the ministries of the church.

In hearing and being reminded of the different ways in which we all serve to uplift the ministries to which we have been called, we should be reminded of Paul's letter to the church in Corinth. A letter that reminds us that no matter what roles we live into, no matter what gifts of the spirit we have, we are all able to contribute the whole body of Christ with the Spirit's help.

With our commitment to supporting the ministries to which we have been called, comes a responsibility to share of our time and our energies. It is easy to make statements of agreement when installing officers and committing our support to the ministries of the church. But there is an expectation from each one of us to do what we can to support the ministries of the church. Sharing our insights, and speaking up when we notice something that needs to be done.

As our lives have been turned around in all directions during this pandemic ideas and plans have been put on hold. But that doesn't mean we have to stop thinking about those things, but rather re-imagine the possibilities that are available for us to serve in ministry together. I am ever mindful of that this year would have been perfect for a halloween carnival as the 31st will fall on a Saturday, but now we have the opportunity to imagine new possibilities for our annual Trunk or Treat.

As we seek to work together in uplifting the ministry of the church, we need all of your ideas, insights, and comments to imagine new possibilities for our ministries together. As we do this, I thank you all for all of your support over these past several years and I look forward to how we will continue to discern God's call upon us together.

Peace in Christ,
Chris Snow
