

While summer is usually evocative of sand and surf while sipping on a fruity drink, this summer many of us are sitting still and sewing. A little over a year ago, Eric and I visited Turks and Caicos and while there, I took a video of just the surf coming and going. I knew there would be a time when I would need a peaceful "get-away", even if it were just the sound and not the smell or feel. So, if you are able to get away somewhere other than your street, enjoy and be safe. If not, enjoy the patio or your deck and know there will be travel again someday. You might even prepare a fruity drink and pop a beach movie in! Your efforts for these babies are so very appreciated!

Needs for August

Boy/Girl Lap-Front Shirts

Boy/Girl Afghans

July Distribution

24 layettes/ 720 items/ 0 burials

Year To Date

274 layettes/ 9284 items/ 26 burials

Items of Note:

*There are new quilt panels in the box in 547 <-----

*Atlanta Sewing Center is offering a discount if you are a Quilt Guild member, every Thursday is 20% off of fabric yardage. They are also extending that offer to all Tiny Stitches members. A great way to give a small business some business while getting a deal.

* No plans for business meetings quite yet. Togetherness may wait for a bit.

* Do still keep the October 17th date for the luncheon free. Fingers crossed.

Stay safe and cool (thank you Mr. Carrier for the invention back in 1902) and thank you again for sewing.

🌴 Amy W. 🌴

Turks and Caicos and delicious conch fritters (drool)

