Coach's Comments

“ We are heading into another weekend of games with Saturday's first stop at Glasgow of the season before they return here to visit us on Sunday night. We actually didn't have a poor game against Cardiff. We had a good chunk of the play with some good chances while limiting their shot count. We probably deserved better on that one so despite the loss at least we can look at the effort in a positive light as we head into a period of roster adjustment. One of our changes, Austin Glover, arrived on Tuesday, but it would have been a bit too much to ask him to join us on such short notice Wednesday, so his debut has been saved for the weekend. Hopefully, he can help inject some new energy into our lineup while we transition to some new faces. We are in the process of other roster changes, and if not already announced, there will be a couple of additions that we think will help improve our offensive output. Alongside hopefully getting some injured players back soon, we are more optimistic now about getting onto a bit better footing as we start to move forward with the new lineup. This should be an entertaining set of games and we hope you can be with us every step of the way. ”
