“ We are looking ahead to the coming weekend at Sheffield then home to Nottingham and hoping, obviously, for a lot more than we achieved last weekend. It is still early, and we do not expect to be at our best in the middle of September, but we know we are capable of a lot more than what we showed in the final two periods on Sunday. When you get a good start like we did, you want to translate that into a full performance, but we did not get anywhere near that. Cardiff took the Cup points in relatively easy fashion which is not a situation we want to repeat. We have tried to look at where we went wrong and hopefully we can be more energetic in resisting Steelers and Panthers over the course of this next set of games. The Cup competition is longer than it has been in the past so we still have a lot to play for. We simply need to focus on ourselves and do what we can to take it up a gear and improve our chances for success. I know every guy wants more from the next set of games and hopefully we will be able to do something to make that happen over 120 minutes of play. We are looking forward to the challenge, and we hope you enjoy the weekend. ”
